ColorGoRound, LLC debuts "Fingerprints, a Keepsake for Life" at the National Stationery Show New York May 18-21, 2008. The children's kit includes an 11"x14" gallery frame, 6 finger paints, apron, canvas paper, and a Certificate of Authenticity.

This spring, ColorGoRound, LLC, debuts an exciting new product at the National Stationery Show in New York City. "Fingerprints, a Keepsake for Life" will take the market by storm at the Javits Convention Center May 18 -21, 2008.

ColorGoRound was established in 2007, in Walled Lake, Michigan by Kari Papadopoulos and Sandra Abrams. "Our company", said Abrams, "is all about children, and making the world a more colorful place, one fingerprint at a time." Papadopoulos adds, "We love to see children shine while creating works of their own. Without inhibitions or doubts, children are pros at creating masterpieces from their hearts and soul." The company's goal is to capture these moments and to make them last a lifetime.

The company's beginnings are a classic story of a mom, grandma, and a child. "We were playing with Matteo one afternoon finger painting," explains Papadopoulos, Matteo's mother, "and Matteo's Grandma and I decided that we had so much fun, we wanted to keep the memory to share with Matteo when he was grown." Grandma Abrams had related to Papadopoulos that she no longer had the pictures and paintings that were created when her children were young. "We all have good intentions", she said and meant to keep them for framing later. But life is very busy and sooner or later the drawings and painting ended up in a drawer, tattered and torn. Determined not to let that happen to her grandchildren's artwork, "Fingerprints, a Keepsake for Life", was created.

"Fingerprints, a Keepsake for Life" is a complete art kit that contains everything you and your child need to enjoy quality family time together while creating a finger painting that you can proudly display in your home. The "Fingerprints" kit includes an 11 x 14" stylish gallery frame, 6 finger paints, an adorable child's apron, artist quality canvas paper, and a Certificate of Authenticity for the child to complete and attach to the back of the frame.

Visit BOOTH 1149 at the National Stationery Show May 18 - 21, 2008, and meet the creators of "Fingerprints" and the actual "Fingerprint" that set this Mom and Grandma on their course of action, one fingerprint at a time.

They have turned a real life situation into a Keepsake for Life that we will all enjoy!
